

INSPIRATION TO LIVE BY DISGUISED BY DESIGN

INSPIRATION TO LIVE BY DISGUISED BY DESIGN

by Phillip L. Hansen

Wellness Publications Com

Vancouver, B. C. Canada

e-Spiritual Dimensions of Wellness

The Venus Flytrap The Atheist and Secularist Dreamers

by Phillip L. Hansen

Copyright © 2009 PLH®: All rights reserved

Tempted by what you see and smell, fooled and trapped by slippery logic.

The art and craft of the con artist and spin doctors borrow from the tricks of the magician and clown to entertain and distract us from their real intent and purpose. Their slick logic is disguised by design to hide their real intent. They prey on weakness, prejudice and the temptation of an assumed gain. It is not discovered, until they have disappeared with their catch, when we notice the loss.

Crooked, corrupt thinking and slick logic uses our own greed and sense of prejudice that, "The end justifies the means", which fools us if we fail to consider the implication of this notorious crooked thinking.

Translation: "In transposing this one we have: "A noble purpose justifies any corrupt method used to achieve it!": No contest. It is very slick and slippery logic used to corrupt simple minds and promote inappropriate actions. It is absolutely wrong, immoral and corrupt. Reality is not inconsistent. It is or it is not so, there are no ifs', ands', but's', in between's' or Maybes'." -- PLH®1

Here is another one that the Atheists and the Humanists hope to gain or capitalize on a belief, that "if we cannot see something, it must not exist." Can we suppose here; that car thieves are going to stop at the stop sign, while the police car is in hot pursuit?

Here I will quote, "As above, so below." As the above reasoning is to point out the way to discover crooked Thinking and corrupt logic.

This will stand up in the court room, while and cons' crooked logic will not.

The atheists and humanists are on the attack, pitting their belief against everyone who believes in the God of our creation. From their belief, they will argue "it is supported by science", and so these secularists with their so-called scientific proof; claim, "There's probably no God. So stop worrying and enjoy life."

This is the art and craft of the hypnotist. Madame Curie discovered that a suggestion is more powerful than a command, and so with subtle, "pleasantly delicate and understated suggestions it bypasses the conscious analytical mind, which influences the feelings of the masses; to sway them without their awareness of the shift."

Now if we use, "PAIRED AND UNPAIRED MEMORY ASSOCIATIONS", we can verify their suggested implications.

Why do these secularists want God out of the way in the first place. Is it so that you can live without worry and have a happy life?

Is their suggestion, "There's probably no God.", that liberating that with God out of the way, we can believe anything we like, enjoy anything we fancy or fantasize without consequence? What is their motive anyway?

This is pure and simple ignorance-mongering, to promote discrimination against a faith in the God of moral principles and truth, of a purpose beyond personal, individual, selfish greedy pursuits.

There is most probable a God of virtue, mercy and truth, since science cannot prove otherwise. So, we can feel safe and secure knowing we reap what we sow, we have a choice in the matter. Charitable love shares happiness; hate and sorrow is self imposed by the way we live or the joy we with hold.

The only happiness lies in the truth, but there is no truth in a lie. If you would be joyful, give it away, as sorrow and unhappiness too, are obtained in the self same way. So give for the love of giving, not for the love of gain. This is the secret of success in love, fortune and fame.

The truth will singe the souls of men, who's dreams and thoughts and works have been, to alter truth make virtue a sin; self destruction form within.

Is not the freedom of religion, the practice of their moral belief in the true, worship and reverence to the God of truth, faith, charity and service?

A perfect love knows no fear. Charitable love is the way to overcome fear, doubt and uncertainty; this is the true path to freedom happiness and the rewards of joy, in righteousness and mastery.

Truly, "when we fail to tame and train our nature we have not the power to secure a happy and prosperous future; furthermore, this addictive self-serving lifestyle destroys its pursuant.

Is it fair when secularists feel the entitlement of push their belief in their pseudo, ephemeral values, on to a majority or a simple minority? Their faith is in the worship and love for the god of pleasure, more than the God of truth, freedom and liberty.

They seek equality while promoting diversity of values. They fail to realize that where there are no virtuous moral values of veracity or truth that there is no liberty; nor can we promote diversity of values together with equality. Diversity and Equality form the oxymoron "diverse-equality", which would mean, if there is diversity there can be no equality, and if there is equality, there can be no diversity.

We may believe as we choose, but empirical, pragmatic studies return the best results. We then avoid the empirical morality that cures one vice by means of another. That, "The end justifies the means", implies, evil is justified if you intend to do good. Diversity of values is good if you intend to promote Equality.

You cannot do both together, as each will undo the other. Talk about double standards, they are promoting multiple standards which equals no standards at all

( New Testament | Romans 14:22 )
Happy is he that condemneth not himself in that thing which he alloweth.

---

Footnotes:

---

- 1 - Phillip L. Hansen, "The Magic of Memory"

4- PAIRED AND UNPAIRED MEMORY ASSOCIATIONS

Paired and unpaired memory associations are other mental skills to uncover reality from fantasy, the known and knowable from the unknown and unknowable; the false from the true. It is a reality measuring stick. It allows us to correlate a truth with another similar truth or another falsehood. For example: "All is fair in love and war!" In transposition we have, "Throw out the moral code when you fall in love and decide to go to war!," have the same meaning. The first is more subtle and less alarming than the last. But, they mean the same thing. In view of this reality check we have to admit that both thoughts are making a point that is inconsistent with truth. There is nothing moral about war and nothing immoral about true love. By association they successfully hid the immorality in war, clouding it with the false romantic notions about love, which too many conclude unjustly as fair play. It may gain the support of the majority, but fails the real test for truth, fairness and moral merits.

This same tactic is used in the following: "The end justifies the means!" In transposing this one we have: "A noble purpose justifies any corrupt method used to achieve it!": No contest. It is very slick and slippery logic used to corrupt simple minds to promote inappropriate actions. It is absolutely wrong, immoral and corrupt. Reality is not inconsistent. It is or it is not so, there are no ifs, ands, but, 's, in between, 's or Maybes'.

Inspiration to Live By

e- Spiritual Dimensions of Wellness